STATEMENT BY MINISTER

Successful Launch of Insat-4B Satellite

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE PRIME MINISTER'S OFFICE (SHRI PRITHVIRAJ CHAVAN): Sir, I am happy to inform this august House that India's newest satellite, INSAT-4B, was successfully launched early this morning (March 12, 2007) by the European Ariane-5 launch vehicle from Kourou, French Guyana. The 3035 kg INSAT-4B, carrying 12 high-power Ku-band transponders and 12 C-band transponders, will augment INSAT capacity for Direct-to-Home television and other communications and TV services.

The Master Control Facility at Hassan in Karnataka acquired the signals from INSAT-4B soon after it entered into orbit and initial checks have indicated normal health of the satellite. The ISRO Telemetry, Tracking and Command (ISTRAC) Network Station at Biak in Indonesia and INMARSAT Ground Stations are also supporting the initial phase operations on the satellite. INSAT-4B is being manoeuvred to its final geostationary orbit, about 36,000 km above the Equator. INSAT-4B will be commissioned into service in about a month's time after in-orbit tests.

I would request hon. Members to join me in congratulating Chairman, ISRO, and all members of the ISRO team and wishing them success.
